RIOT TORN SHANGHAI BECOMES QUIET WORK BEGINS ON MURDOCK SUBDIVISION

C. P. MURDOCK STARTS WORK ON NEW TRACT

Contracts for Grading to Be Awarded on or About May 1.

The first step toward subdividing the single largest tract of land remaining in the heart of Richmond's industrial and residential center began yesterday morning when the C. P. Murdock Co., Inc. began to line out streets in the tract, which is situated at Twenty-third street and Macdonald avenue.

The work undertaken constitutes one of the largest phases in the development of Richmond as an industrial center on the Pacific coast. The slogan displayed by the Murdock company on its signboards at the tract signifies the important results which will accrue with the extension of the city.

"Ford Made Detroit," states the sign, "Now Watch Richmond!" Officials of the company declared yesterday that work would

Business Booms For Building Burglar

Having accumulated a quantity of boards and a few interior decorations, Richmond's building burglar probably is thinking of some artistic design to carve out with the $49 worth of carpenter's tools he picked up Tuesday night from a house being built by T. A. Vaughan, 528 Second street, on Roosevelt avenue between Thirtieth and Thirty-first street.

He now has a miscellaneous collection of 100 feet of green board fence, cement, laths, a potted fern, a carpet sweeper, and sundry other materials and decorations.

Klan Presents Flag to School

Through an oversight, part of the program at the dedication of the Harding school Tuesday night, as appeared in the RECORD-HERALD Wednesday morning, was omitted.

There were two flags presented to the school instead of one. The Richmond Elks were the donors of one, and the Richmond Knights of the Ku Klux Klan presented the other. The Klan presentation speech was made by H. W. Shafer of Oakland.

Spray Gun Manufacturing Companies Combine to Put Out Product

SAN FRANCISCO, March 23.—Blake F. Hopkins, president of the Hopkins Spraying Equipment company, which merged with the Decora Manufacturing company of Richmond, yesterday, left tonight with Frank Tittmore, of the latter named concern for New York, where plans will be completed for the establishment of the Chicago and Atlantic coast factories. While in the east, Hopkins will institute infringement suits on spraying apparatus against six rich defendants for damages "approximating several millions." Hopkins some months ago won a $1,000,000 suit against the Standard Oil and Henry Ford.

DE COSTA GETS FIVE YEARS ON BANDIT CHARGE

MARTINEZ, March 23.—Manuel De Costa, 24, was yesterday convicted by a jury in the court of Superior Judge H. V. Alvarado of robbery in the first degree and faced a term of from five years to life for his participation in the "petting party" outrages some weeks ago. He is being held in the county jail awaiting trial on two other charges of robbery. The jurors took only sufficient time to write out a verdict, and the attorneys of the accused, recognizing the futility of argument, waived right to defense.

Manuel Duarte, 24, was taken to San Quentin yesterday afternoon, as the result of De Costa's conviction to begin serving sentence of from ten years to life for slaying Frank Malley, his companion in the holdup quartet, and a term of five years to life on a count of highway robbery. The sentences were made to run concurrently.

De Costa refused to accept an opportunity to plead guilty to a charge of second degree robbery when friends provided funds for his defense.

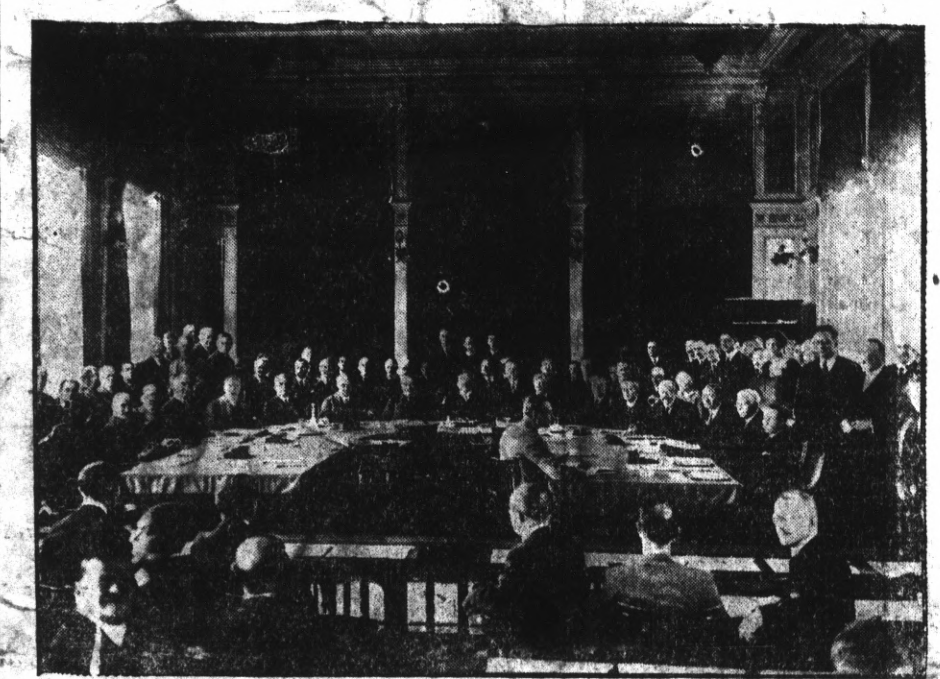

Arthur Moran, 16, fourth member of the gang, is awaiting hearing in the juvenile court.

Alward Rites To Be Held Tomorrow

Funeral rites for O. W. Alward, who passed away in the Weimer Sanitarium last Tuesday, will be held tomorrow afternoon from the parlors of Wilson & Kratzer, Key Wilson of the First Baptist church will conduct the services. He is survived by a wife, Anna L. Alward, 228 Fourteenth street, and a daughter, Mrs. George Bickel of Stanford, Connecticut. He was a member of Odd Fellows lodge No. 74, of Old Orchard, Maine. He was a native of Australia. Interment will be in Sunset View cemetery.

German Delegate Presides At League

For first time in League of Nations history a German presided when Foreign Minister Stresemann took chair at opening of 4th session of league's council in Geneva. Here's dramatic scene, left to right: M. Benes, M. Zaleski, M. Urbis, person unknown, M. Veluzis, M. Scalapin, M. Prian, H. Stresemann, Sir Eric Drummond, Sir Austen Chamberlain, Viscount Ishii, M. Vandervelde, M. Chu person unknown and M. Guernera.

CAR SERVICE IS DISCUSSED AT C. C. MEET

Recognizing that the most pressing need of Richmond today is the assurance that a street car line shall be extended to the Ford plant on the inner harbor, the transportation committee, headed by its chairman, W. W. Scott, in its report to the directors of the chamber of commerce yesterday noon at Hotel Carquinez, declared that this would be the first matter the committee would take up with the Key System Transit company.

"The $2,000,000 Ford plant is coming to Richmond on certain definite promises made by the chamber of commerce, the City of Richmond and Fred D. Parr" to the Ford company in Detroit," said Scott, "and among these was the assurance that a street car line would be extended to the plant. While Richmond has other transportation matters, this is the first matter to be taken up."

Funeral of Mrs. Carr Delayed

The funeral of Mrs. Joanna Albert Carr, wife of George E. Carr of 536 Ninth street, Richmond, is pending the arrival of the mother of the deceased from Ontario, Canada. The funeral will be private, with Wilson and Kratzer in charge. Cremation will follow at the wish of the deceased.

Mrs. Carr passed away at St. Luke's hospital Sunday. She was a resident of this city of more than 14 years, and was a member of the Neighbors of Woodcraft, a charter member of the Ladies' Auxiliary to the Railroad Trainmen and a former teacher in Lincoln school.

She is survived by her husband, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Akin of Fresno, two daughters, Mrs. H. A. McNary of Richmond, and Myrtle Akin of Palo Alto, and a niece, Miss Jessie Carey of Richmond.

Overalls Contingent Rallies As "Corduroy" Army Enters Field In Richmond "Tux" War

The Tuxedo proponents in the Merchants' war have had the "starch" taken out of them completely, by the news that while they boasted of their unparalleled progress toward making the Get Together in Hotel Carquinez April 18 a formal affair, the overall contingent had massed and "bulled" the ticket market.

Herbert Schrader alone cornered 150 tickets, and he is a professed bib-and-tucker champion. Even more important he is a member of the dance committee for the occasion. If he should decide to bar Tuxedo champions from the ballroom floor—shoddy, no one knows what the result might be.

A tiny rift in the overall forces has developed, however. Corduroy trouser champions have made their appearance. It is rumored also that a large delegation from the University of California plans to attend the event. It is estimated that "cords" of dirty trousers are being cleaned for the occasion, and will shine in pristine splendor at the ball.

Bankers and agriculturists are heavy backers of the overall stock. William Mayer, of the American Cleaning and Dye Works reports himself "flooded with clothing. Mayer has little to say as to which form of dress he prefers—he is on the ticket committee.

To cap the climax of the situation, Marie Macdonald Jensen, secretary of the Merchants' association has developed the "gimme" habit. She annexed yesterday one sack of flour, a brand, writing paper, a lamp, balloons, groceries, and a cake plate. Other donations are expected.

Mrs. Jensen is also annexing sundry articles of men's wear for the occasion. Soon to be the proud possessor of a Tuxedo, Mrs. Jensen finds the "blame thing" requires accessories. She is deluged with offers of studs, suspenders (also sometimes called "galluses"), collars, socks, handkerchiefs, scarfs, etc.

But the crowning glory of Mrs. Jensen's ensemble will be the silk "topper" worn by Dr. U. S. Ashmunsey, Fruitvale, $25; C. H. Hagerstrom, Berkeley, $25.

HENRY B. ALLEN TALKS AT BIG REALTOR MEET

Optimistic Note Sounded By President of State Realtors Association.

Unity and team work was the key note of the speakers at the dinner given last night at the Carquinez hotel by the Contra Costa Board of Realtors in honor of Harry Allen of San Francisco, the president of the California State Realtors Association.

Every section of the county was represented, there being over 100 who sat down at the banquet tables.

The past, present, and future of Richmond were presented by the different speakers, and the great outlook for the entire state was portrayed by the principal speakers in a manner that enthused everyone.

President E. B. Bull of the County Realtors acted as toastmaster of the evening and carried out his duties with great credit to himself.

MUSICAL PROGRAM

The music for the occasion was furnished by the Rembrandt Trio made up of Eva Garcia, piano; Modeste Mortensen, violin; and Dorothy Dukes Dime, cello. The soloist was Miss Ellen Pigott. The various instrumental and vocal selections were loudly applauded.

Mayor Mattie Chandler was one of the guests of the evening, and (Continued on Page 8)

CONDITION OF MRS. ASTORINI IS IMPROVING

The crisis in the condition of Mrs. Anna Astronlo, wife of a North Richmond shoemaker, who was shot five times by her husband Monday night in Santa Rosa, has been passed following an operation, it was learned last night.

Following a separation a short time ago the wife went to reside on a ranch near Santa Rosa, it is claimed, and Vincenzo, hearing of his wife's alleged infidelity, went to the ranch and shot her five times.

Vincenzo is being held in the county jail, and is said to have made a full confession of the shooting.

Seeks Compromise In Damage Suit

MARTINEZ, March 23.—A petition was presented in the superior court here today by Carl Black of Richmond, asking compromise of the claim of his son, Arthur, 20, against Mike Faye, also of Richmond. Black's son was injured by Faye's automobile in November, 1924, Black stated, and Faye is now willing to settle out of court for $1535.

GUESTS AT CARQUINEZ

Guests registered at the Carquinez last night were: Harry Wiseman, Richmond; M. Nemora, Los Angeles; E. W. Meyers, Seattle; Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Allen, Sacramento; Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Lerman, Los Angeles; R. G. Bunyon, San Francisco; Fred D. Klare, San Francisco; D. Drummond, Sacramento; V. Hooking, Grass Valley.

(By Universal Service)
WASHINGTON, March 23.—Generations old tradition scuttled for cover today when the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad decreed that a locomotive need not be painted a funeral black.

Twenty new engines to be delivered next week will be green-olive green—the road announced. And with red and gold strip.

On the flanks of each of these verdant giants of the rail will appear the name of a president. The twenty will run down the list of early executives, from "President Washington" to "President Arthur."

DOLLAR SHIP TO DOCK TODAY AT WHARF ONE

The Harold Dollar, of the Dollar line, is scheduled to dock at wharf No. 1 Saturday for a cargo of oil and case goods for the Orient, C. H. Engle, terminal agent, announced yesterday.

The Watama, coastwise steamer of the McCormick Steamship company, is at Parr Terminal company wharf No. 2 discharging a cargo of piles and laths. The San Francisco Bridge company is named as consignee of the 140 piles in the boat. The laths will be shipped in one-carload lots to San Jose, Sonoma and Berkeley.

Theveinin Gets Jail Sentence For Burglaries

Pleading guilty to a charge of petit larceny before Justice of the Peace John Roth, in Richmond, E. J. Theveinin, of San Pablo, was given a six month's suspended county jail sentence, for his aid in disposing of loot taken from the Princeton Knitting mills on two occasions in January.

W. R. Jackson, charged with burglary in the same case, was bound over to the superior court, with bail fixed at $1000. Unable to raise that amount, Jackson was turned over to the sheriff.

Jackson exonerated Theveinin of all blame in the looting claiming that the latter only helped in the disposal of the goods stolen. The two were arrested in Redding some weeks ago after their movements had been traced through the sale of $800 in sweaters. It is thought possible that Jackson will ask for probation.

Looks Like Building Boom in El Cerrito

City Inspector J. F. Walsh issued building permits in El Cerrito to the valuation of $19,000 yesterday. They are:

Mrs. A. B. Peterson, Henderson-Tapscott tract, $1500; Mrs. Peterson, Henderson, Tapscott tract, $4,000; G. Herman, North Berkeley Terrace, $2500; D. A. Armeson two in Henderson Tapscott tract, $200 each; Mrs. Mildred Combs, Boulevard Gardens tract, $9000.

CANTONESE IN FULL CONTROL OF SHANGHAI

One Hundred Chinese are Killed in Attack on Foreign Settlement.

By H. H. STANSBURY
(By Universal Service)
LONDON, March 23.—With the coming of quieter conditions in the native areas of Shanghai, an official estimate places the number of northern Chinese soldiers killed by the British, Italian, Spanish and Japanese soldiers during attacks on the international settlement, at 100.

The Cantonese, according to Central News dispatch from Shanghai tonight, are in practically complete control of a parts of the native city, and are making strenuous efforts to restore order. The success of these efforts is reflected by the comparative calm which has prevailed in the last 18 hours, excepting minor clashes this afternoon.

Orders Refused to Work
Negotiations have been conducted between the British and French representatives. Pei-Ching-Ho declared that he was determined to maintain order and had issued instructions to all workers to return to work immediately.

Owing to the activities of Communists, shipping in the port is at a standstill. The strike has extended to Indo-China. Stagnation is complete at the wharves and customs offices, but it is hoped that work will be resumed soon.

World's Worst Host
Again Fails in His Social Obligations

Twenty-four guests were turned away yesterday morning in Police Judge C. A. Odell's court when the return party given in honor of George B. Solich, Richmond restaurant man, failed to materialize. Local authorities were disappointed once before when they proceeded to a vacant house at 17 Delfino avenue early in February and found a smattering of liquors, but no host to entertain them.

Following an investigation of the facts of the "case," Solich was served an invitation to attend the occasion which fell down in yesterday morning.

Solich claimed that his guest in the first instance had proceeded to the wrong house of that it would have been present to entertain them properly.

But he decided at the last moment in court that he had failed in his duties as a host and admitted that the liquor belonged to him.

The twenty-four venturists were thereupon dismissed after Judge Odell had imposed a fine of $50 or the alternative of a 500 day jail sentence. The party was a distressing failure and a thoroughly depressing time was had by all.

The definition of a man is capable of so much variation that it seems silly to dispute over the definition of Americanism. No simple formula will do.

Inasmuch as the term originated during a period when the nation was lost in admiration of its fighting men, it seems that the ex-soldiers, whose attempt to prescribe qualities essential to the American is combatted by the pacifists, ought to have the better of the argument from the start. But it seems they will have to fight for the right to say what a good American is. One thing you can depend on, your real pacifist is one of the least pacifistic fools the world produces when trod on in the region of his or her beliefs.

The veteran's definition of Americanism, as reported by the International News Service the other day, is the composite of the ideals of all the ex-soldier organizations. Contributing to it were the national commanders of the Grand Army of the Republic, the United Spanish War Veterans, the Veterans of Foreign Wars, the American Legion and the Disabled American Veterans of the World War. From among those fine bodies of men one can be sure of a response of American ideals, for have they not fought, bled and died that those ideals might prevail? Surely no pacifist has won as much except under compulsion—not of conscience but of country—that ruins all claim to virtuosity.

Let us examine the opposing declarations.

Say the veterans:

"Americanism is an unfailing love of country; loyalty to its institutions and ideals; eagerness to defend it against all enemies; undivided allegiance to the flag; and a desire to secure the blessing of liberty to ourselves and posterity."

The peace advocates immediately wrote another definition, reading: "Americanism is the brave and true love of and loyalty to the belief, that the people of the United States, as individual citizens, are free and equal and that the government of the United States is established by the people to exercise powers delegated by them, in order to secure the blessings of liberty to themselves and their posterity."

Men Who Made the World

NOTHING DAUNTED BY SALADIN REFUSING TO RETURN THE HOLY SEPULCHRE AND THE TRUE CROSS AND YIELD JERUSALEM, RICHARD PROPOSED A NEW PLAN TO SALADIN AND SAPHADIN. MORE AND MORE CONVINCED THAT HE MUST RETURN TO ENGLAND AT ONCE, RICHARD PROPOSED TO HIS ENEMIES THAT THE HOLY CITY BE HELD IN JOINT CONTROL BY THE SARACENS AND THE CHRISTIANS. TO CEMENT THIS ALLIANCE, HE PROPOSED A MARRIAGE BETWEEN THE EX-QUEEN JOHANNA, HIS SISTER, AND SAPHADIN. THE MARRIAGE TO BE THE TOKEN OF FRIENDSHIP BETWEEN THE CONTENTING PARTIES, NOTWITHSTANDING THEIR RELIGIOUS DIFFERENCES. SALADIN AND SAPHADIN BOTH INDICATED A WILINGNESS TO ACCEPT THE PLAN, BUT IT WAS DEFEATED BY THE INFLUENCE OF THE PRIESTS ON BOTH SIDES. THE PRIESTS PRETENDED TO BE GREATLY SHOCKED, SINCE BOTH SIDES BELIEVED THAT GOD WAS ON THEIR SIDE AND SATAN ON THE OTHER. SUCH AN ALLIANCE COULD NOT BE TOLERATED. THE LEADERS WELL KNEW THAT THE INFLUENCE OF THE PRIESTS OVER THE MASSES WAS SO GREAT THAT AN ALLIANCE COULD NOT BE FORGED. SO THE PLAN FELL THROUGH.

Personal Health Service

By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

Signed letters pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. Brady if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is enclosed. Letters should be brief and written in ink. Owing to the large number of letters received, only a few can be answered. No reply can be made to queries not conforming to instructions. Address: Dr. William Brady, in care of this newspaper. Name your city on your return envelope. Don't say "city."

"I never fail to read your column. I derive much enjoyment from it. May I ask you two questions? Can a person get cri from getting his feet wet and not changing to dry stockings promptly? Should one wear the same clothing all winter even though it is sometimes too warm? The weather is so changeable that... (An Illinois lady)." Here's a pupil, if I may so characterize her, who adopts and uses properly and naturally enough a term I coined to convey an honest idea, and yet this lady still clings to the very delusion I hoped to dispel through the popularization of the term cri. Another dream shattered.

If the word cri (pronounced kree and coined from the initial letters of the cumbersome phrase common respiratory infection) is destined to become a more popular synonym for "cold" I'll regret I invented it. The idea I intended the term to convey is this: When you or your doctor or an innocent bystander guess you are coming down with one of the common respiratory infections, you admit that you think so and you admit that you don't know as yet just what you have caught, and consequently you can give the bystander no assurance as to what he may catch from you if you call it the cri. You give fair notice, fair warning, to all who may associate with you that they must keep out of your range or come within range at their own peril. You play the game fairly. You do not peddle samples of your infection under cover of the pretense that it is "just a cold."

When you think of cri you must understand and acknowledge that God only knows what it is going to be, and accordingly, it is a good health policy, discretion, common sense, to avoid unnecessary exposure to the cri. The way to avoid it is simply to keep outside of the range of the individual who has it. The range is not to exceed five feet in the spray of conversation, but the range increases to 10 to 12 feet if the individual sneezes or coughs without covering nose and mouth. Minute droplets of moisture or secretion carrying the germ of the infection are carried by the spray of conversation, but the range increases to 10 to 12 feet if the individual sneezes or coughs without covering nose and mouth. Minute droplets of moisture or secretion carrying the germ of the infection are carried by the spray of conversation, but the range increases to 10 to 12 feet if the individual sneezes or coughs without covering nose and mouth.

Getting your feet wet has no more to do with catching flu or coryza than it has with catching diphtheria. You can't find a health authority anywhere who will venture to say, today, that getting your feet wet makes you more vulnerable to diphtheria. It would be absurd to imagine that a wetting a man got from a fall through ice is responsible for the excellent health he enjoys for 10 years thereafter. It is more reasonable to imagine such a wetting or chilling has anything to do with typhoid fever or pneumonia or smallpox another man happens to develop soon after such a ducking? Nine times out of ten no illness of any kind follows a wetting or chilling—an observation which indicates that very few of us need fear or worry about getting wet.

I do not contend that a wetting or chilling necessarily improves one's health or hardens one against sickness, though actual experience tends to show it does. I merely assure the reader that conviction that such wetting or chilling cannot cause any sickness is a comfortable kind of knowledge to have. QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS Immunity Against Cri Our son aged 6 years was operated on for mastoids last winter and seems to get cold very easily since then. I am now giving him an emulsion of cod liver oil and would ask if you think this might help him? He is quite thin. (Mrs. H. V. J.) Answer—I do not think so. Plain cod liver oil may help to develop immunity against the common respiratory infections.

High, Low, Jack Please give a list of the foods which a person with high blood pressure should eat. Also a list for a person with low blood pressure. (W. A. A.) Answer—Well, the best suggestion I can offer is that the person with low blood pressure be allowed first choice, and whatever victuals he doesn't want will be all right for the person with high blood pressure. Seriously, it is impossible to lay down a diet for high or low blood pressure. The patient's physician will advise about the diet if the condition he finds seem to require dieting.

How soon should an operation take place after the rupture of gastric ulcer? Are chances better when the operation is done immediately or after an interval of six or eight hours? (K. A. E.) Answer—Immediately. Only Fooling My wife's doctor recommended rolling to reduce her hip padding, but did not specify the amount, daily or other details. Would you be good enough... (G. J. A.) Answer—The idea of reducing by rolling is only a joke. On request I should be glad to advise your wife how to reduce. There are only two ways. I can advise, and that is by restricting the intake of fuel to something less than the output of energy. Or the patient's own physician may greatly aid reduction and at the same time benefit the patient's general health by carefully regulated hormone medication.

Dad Loses Bet My dad is one of your fans. Recently I painted iodine on a sore wrist and he declared it is useless and can have no effect on internal pain or inflammation as it is not absorbed the skin. So we have a bet on it. (S. F. C.) Answer—It is an excellent counter-irritant and may relieve soreness or pain, even though it isn't absorbed by the skin. (Copyright John F. Dille Co.)

ADULTS CONTRIBUTION DAY

You remember "Distracted Teacher" asking her opinion as to whether or she should be put to grass this summer or go to summer school? Well, her letter started a regular whirlwind of thoughts from parents, teachers, yes, and the school children.

My own thoughts on the subject have almost been buried by the avalanche of opinions. I do remember that I believed that the whole school system was badly affected with a terrible disease called "Credulity." The college graduates, the high schools, the teachers in the high school demand credit for diplomas, the colleges demand credit for graduation, and the school board demand credit for promotion an increase in the salary of teachers.

One State recently boasted about the large number of its teaching force who went to summer school. On investigating, found that the teaching crowd had to go if they expected an increase in salary. Personally I think more money change; they need a change from traditional ideas which many of them hold; they need a change in attitude; a change in personal contacts, and often a change in health.

A teacher has been professionally and spiritually benefited by a course in summer school. But many a teacher has been spiritually by a trip to Europe, or across the continent. Many a teacher by turning herself "out of gear" has turned her physical and nervous wreck into a Sunny-Jimie teacher.

My way of thinking it is a mistake for all teachers to be practically forced to expose themselves to this "credulity" disease. I believe in self-improvement of mind, body and soul. But not that such improvement come in other ways than forced attendance upon a summer school. I have had my say in the matter and I believe it will be of brief today.

"Dear Dr. Dean: Teachers are paid for nine months work by a salary which sounds pretty good, but when you have to teach twelve months it is pretty thin. Who ever heard of a teacher saving much money after years of hard labor? They are to content with the worst of the community for some of them are sure to climb on the school board."

"I used to teach school but now I am in business. But the hardest part of my work is to teach. By the end of the first year I was almost a physical and nervous wreck. My teaching sister was also a wreck. I decided I could not afford to end up in an insane asylum so I got out."

"I say GRASS instead of SUMMER SCHOOLS. "Distracted Teacher: I think there is too much demand on both teacher and scholars. Schools demand that pupils complete the eighth grade at the age of twelve or thirteen. Then they go to high school even though they are not developed in mind or body to study what they are required. I agree with you on the system of content with the worst of the community for some of them are sure to climb on the school board."

"To Dr. Dean: Teachers are turned out to grass—they are human like the rest of us. I have a certain teacher whose classroom is a pleasure to attend. He mixes humor, common sense and mathematics all in one class. Isn't it a pleasure to attend a class where one can laugh and yet learn. I think he laughs and gets us to learn because he has a good vacation each year."

Well, customers, from these letters we see that teachers should chew grass next summer. But there is another side to this and in a week or so we will go over the advantages of professional training through summer school.

KING RICHARD I.

By Dr. Elliot Shoring, The Noted Historian

ONE OF THE GREAT SOURCES OF TROUBLE RICHARD HAD WITH HIS MIXED ARMY WAS A QUARREL BETWEEN TWO KNIGHTS AS TO WHICH OF THEM SHOULD BE KING OF JERUSALEM. IT SEEMS LAUGHABLE TO US THAT SUCH A MATTER SHOULD HAVE BEEN THE BASIS OF A QUARREL, SINCE THE TITLE WAS AN EMPTY ONE. FOR THE CHRISTIANS DID NOT CONTROL JERUSALEM. BUT THE POSSIBILITY THAT THEY MIGHT CAUSED THE TWO KNIGHTS IN QUESTION TO RESORT TO INTRIGUES OF ALL SORTS. ONE OF THEM, GUY OF LUSIGN, BY VIRTUE OF A MARRIAGE TO A PRINCESS NAMED SIBYLLA, DESCENDED FROM A FAMOUS CRUSADER, GODFREY, WHO HAD ONE HUNDRED YEARS PREVIOUS TAKEN POSSESSION OF JERUSALEM AND BEEN CROWNED KING. NOW CLAIMED THE TITLE, AS SIBYLLA'S HEIR. OPPOSED TO HIM WAS A BOLD AND UNCRUPULOUS KNIGHT NAMED CONRAD. CONRAD HAD SEIZED ISABELLA, SISTER OF SIBYLLA, WHO WAS NOW DEAD, AND MARRIED HER, IN ORDER TO GIVE HIM SOME CLAIM ON THE TITLE. CONRAD SAID THAT UPON SIBYLLA'S DEATH, HER TITLE PASSED TO HER SISTER, ISABELLA, AND THAT HE, BEING ISABELLA'S HUSBAND, WAS THE ONLY KING OF JERUSALEM. SO THE QUARREL RAGED AND THE ENTIRE CAMP OF CRUSADERS WAS SPLIT INTO OPPOSING PARTIES ON THE QUESTION.

THE STORY THIS FAR. Fred Blake impersonates Fred Thomson, long-lost son of a Sierra family, after this son has been killed by a bear. Fred is hunted by the police. Fred meets the Sierra Boy Scout troop, in which Daddy Monroe is a Scout. At the camp, meeting June and Mrs. Monroe, Fred avoids the Burlingame, who are trying to sell Mrs. Monroe some oil stock.

CHAPTER VIII—Continued. Luke bit his lip. "Out in Arizona way," he answered, stammering. "Ed Powell, partner of mine, struck oil and staked his claim. Just need capital, and I come to Mrs. Monroe right off, seein' as we always been such good friends. We was willin' to help her out, more easy, 'tuh help her run th' ranch, 'tuh show our good feelin' for her. Now, of course, that yuh've come back, that's out," he finished hastily.

"Yes," agreed Fred, "that's out. Well, Mr. Burlingame, I don't think we can do anythin' for yuh," he continued quietly. "No hard feelin's?" He handed back the certificate.

Ole Luke stared angrily at it, then snatched it and flung it at him. He tottered to his feet, glaring at Mrs. Monroe.

"This 'tuh yuh treat me—after I've worried so much over yore money? That's gratitude, that is!" he snarled.

Fred pushed him gently away from Mrs. Monroe, sitting surprised and troubled in her chair.

"Nonsense!" he said easily. "Yuh're a bad loser, Burlingame. Jest check out, an' we'll forget all about it."

Luke glared at him, white faced, then he snatched into a sneer, growling. "Can't yuh even rob a widder without my help?" Luke grated. "How do we know yuh're her son? Yuh might be jest a slick crook—yuh don't look honest tuh me, an' I sure oughta know a crook when I see one!"

Mrs. Monroe started up in protest. Fred shook his head, livid. They'd caught him.

"Kindly leave my house, Banker Burlingame," said Mrs. Monroe firmly. "You are insulting!"

As old Luke supposed, forward, trembling with rage, stive Burlingame's cold voice broke in for the first time. "Mebbe yuh're wrong, dad," he said softly. "Ain't got no call tuh make a man out a crook unless yuh got reason to do it. If this man is Mrs. Monroe's son, there's a way tuh prove it!"

He rose and stepped forward, smiling evilly. Old Luke stopped, grinning, shook with laughter, looking down at the limply-hanging right hand of Fred.

"Sure," he said, chuckling. "Ef yuh're Fred Monroe, what about that scar yuh've supposed tuh have on yore right hand?" Before Fred could protest he snatched at the hand and held it gingerly up to Mrs. Monroe's eyes.

"There!" he exclaimed. "There ain't a mark on it. Yuh've been hoodwinked, Widder! Stevie, boy, 'phone fer th' Sheriff!" Giggling, chuckling, dancing evilly around, he suddenly stopped, frozen, as a voice from the doorway said coldly:

"Just a minute, Mr. Burlingame. Yuh're barking up the wrong tree. Jus stand resolutely in the doorway, with Buddy directly behind her."

CHAPTER IX THE LAST STRAW June advanced into the room before Luke's gorging eyes, and flashing a contemptuous glance at the surprised Stevie, put her arm lovingly under Fred's waist. He stiffened under her touch, his heart pounding, miserable. For a moment he had almost breathed thankfully, glad that his deception was discovered, nipped in the bud before he could wreak any harm. Now—what?

"You just accused my brother of being a crook," said June, flushing. "You did it for two reasons—one because yuh're a crook yourself and thought to cover up your own tracks by a counter-accusation—the other because yuh've been misled just like everybody else about that scar."

"Fred started in forming his plans originally, in his rage and resentment and anger, he had meant to hew his way by sheer strength through to his goal of revenge, himself. He had not taken the scar into consideration at all. His plans had not been definite—he had been undecided at murder—it had been unthinkable—in some way he had hoped to effect the financial ruin of his mother's murderer's kin. Things had not gone as he had foreseen; the Monroes had not been monsters, but people of unusual kindness and sweetness. From the moment of his arrival he had felt vaguely that his plans were doomed to failure—and had battled with his feeling of gladness at the thought. In the past day he had never once thought of the scar.

It was all such a mess. Weary, tired, beaten, confused, Fred Blake stood with June Monroe's arm about his waist and heard dimly her clear, fresh voice defending him.

"Fred is my brother. Any honest person can see that he's genuine—noble—and true. But if you want to know about that scar... it was just a newspaper story. My brother never had a scar, and before we could correct the—the newspapers—he was found—and here he is!"

Stevie and Luke Burlingame stared at him foolishly. "We're proud to belong to him—we love him! Does that satisfy you? Now I think yuh'd better go. I'm sure yuh won't want to come back again!"

Silently the Burlingames left. They said nothing, but mounted their horses and rode away. Old Luke's face was a study. "This damned long-lost son business has spoiled everything! We gotta get rid o' him somehow!" he muttered. "How wuz I tuh know he never had a scar? It wuz yore fault anyhow, yuh good-for-nothin' tramp!" he snarled, whirling on Stevie, who was jabbing disgustedly at him. "What'd yuh want to mention it fer?"

"I'm alone!" said Stevie, growling. "Can't yuh even rob a widder without my help?" Luke grated. "How do we know yuh're her son? Yuh might be jest a slick crook—yuh don't look honest tuh me, an' I sure oughta know a crook when I see one!"

Mrs. Monroe started up in protest. Fred shook his head, livid. They'd caught him.

"Kindly leave my house, Banker Burlingame," said Mrs. Monroe firmly. "You are insulting!"

SUPERB CAST

AT CALIFORNIA

Ever since Pola Negri came to the United States, film fans have been waiting for her to top the heights she attained in "Passion."

In "Hotel Imperial," her latest Paramount vehicle, which came to the California theatre yesterday, she has more than accomplished this. This new film of love, war and intrigue is easily her finest since coming to America.

In many respects, it's the greatest achievement of Miss Negri's screen career.

As the girl about whom centers a tumultuous love story, with the fate of armies at stake, she brings all the impetuous artistry into play that has made her the screen's first emotional actress.

The tremendous exactions of her portrayal sweep Pola from the depths of tragedy to the heights of rapture, carrying her audience with gripping tenacity through climaxes after climaxes to the final breathless denouement.

Lajos Rito supplies a vehicle worthy of her genius, and the production's perfection offers a mark for all film makers to shoot at.

Against a background provided by the Russian drive into Austria-Hungary, a tense drama of passionate intrigue has been woven.

James Hall, former Broadway stage star, takes another long stride toward the pinnacle he is inevitably approaching, as the fugitive Hungarian officer, George Sizemán gives a splendidly brutal performance.

Max Davidson, Otto Fries, Michael Vavitch and Nicholas Soussanin are all more than capable.

Erich Pommer, who supervised such international sensations as "Variety," "The Last Laugh," and "The Cabinet of Dr. Caligari," produced "Hotel Imperial" as his first American picture.

This superb effort ranks him among the world's elite.

The unique effects achieved with Bert Glennon's extraordinary camera technique are striking.

Some of the scenes are so amazing there seems to have been a magic quality in their taking.

Mauritz Stiller, the Scandinavian director, has done notable work in this, his first Paramount production.

"Hotel Imperial" simply teems with color and romance. Picturesque sets, replete with old-world atmosphere, a modern drama, laid amid surroundings unchanged since medieval days, the martial tramp of many feet, war's bitterness and its glory—the whole revolving about Pola Negri's colorful personality—combine to make the picture a rare treat.

Other features on the same program include "A Prodigal Bridegroom," a Ben Turpin comedy; "Varieties," and "International News."

SENATOR CHARGES DEFEAT OF BOULDER DAM TO POWER TRUST

BRITISH NEWSPAPER RAPS U. S. POLICY

LONDON TIMES TAKES ISSUE WITH POLICY IN NICARAGUA

By H. H. STANSBURY
(By Universal Service)
LONDON, March 23.—Notice of nullification by the United States of the convention with Mexico designed "to prevent smuggling," is described by the Times as "without exaggeration an ultimatum."

Referring also to the Nicaragua policy the Times comments: "If the men who count for most in the formulation of the policy have their way, the Caribbean Sea must henceforth be considered as a United States lake."

"It is an Axiom."
"This is no longer a mere argument; it is an axiom."

After giving the details of the discarded agreement with Mexico the paper adds:

"The financial situation of the Calles government is admittedly precarious. There is louder talk every day of its downfall by revolution and unless it does something to placate Washington it must perhaps be prepared to find the forces of discontent armed with American rifles and firing American bullets."

Criticism of Coolidge
"There will be an immediate violent criticism of the Coolidge administration in some quarters but Congress is no longer in Washington to pass resolutions in favor of arbitration."

"Senator Hoffman can no longer use the capitol as a great sounding board to denounce any overt act against Mexico as a papal plot, and Senator Borah—with his 'God made us neighbors, let justice make us friends'—is just now an itinerant preacher and no more."

"There will be little for some months to come unless public opinion should be moved to retard the process which if continued would make Mexico an economic dependency of the United States."

"In the meantime it would perhaps be well to take President Coolidge's objection to the treaty with Nicaragua suggested by Senator Don Adolfo Diaz with a grain of salt."

"Diaz is ready to hand over his country and all of its activities to the United States for protection and tutelage, not caring whether this conflicts or not with the Central American treaties of 1923."

"The United States government will hardly be so careless but what is undesirable in law may be and is being accomplished in fact."

"This is being done with Mex-

Moral Victory For Mussolini Is Blow To League Of Nations

By O. D. TOLISCHUS
(By Universal Service)

BERLIN, March 23.—The first round of the Italian-Jugo-Slavian conflict ended by Mussolini's ambition to restore Rome to its ancient size and grandeur has practically come to an end with a moral victory for Mussolini and a new blow to the prestige of the League of Nations.

Though big posters are taking advantage of the Jugo-Slavian surrender and are talking of appointing a military commission to investigate the Jugo-Slavian military preparations charged by Mussolini, the general belief here tonight is that the plan will be dropped and the excitement permitted to calm down—until the next clash.

But outside of the League, it is held, there is no authority to make an investigation on the soil of a sovereign state.

Jugo-Slavia tried to appeal to the world, which had threatened the great oil interest, but interfered in Nicaragua."

the League but the powers "persuaded it not to do so."

Speakers for all parties in the Jugo-Slavian parliament have claimed the principle, "The Balkans for the Balkan people." They have urged an alliance with Bulgaria and more friendly relations with England.

The German Communist press charges Mussolini is already placing orders for war materials with the Ruhr industries.

MYSTERY CAR TAKES FIRST TRIAL TRIP

By HORACE V. WILKINS
(By Universal Service)

23.—First test of the famous 1,000 horsepower British Sunbeam racing car "Mystery S," which is expected to attain a speed of 200 miles an hour and shatter all existing records, was held this evening, and during part of the test Universal Service was permitted to have its representative ride along with it.

Riding with it is a most conservative statement. It did not include a comfortable sloping seat with one costly element. Instead, it was a precarious perch on the slippery, sloping side of the huge monster, right leg hooked over the rim of the tiny cockpit, the other dangling into space—swiftly moving space.

Head down against a wind which seemed to be flattening one's nose, pressing one's eyeballs into their sockets, over jounces and bumps which made one's neck snap painfully with the numbing roar of two 12-cylinder engines, cutouts wide open, emitting clouds of dense smoke from upstanding vents but two feet from one's spine.

No records were broken, no records were attempted. The highest speed registered on the tachometer indicated a rate of 120 miles an hour. If one rides the "Mystery S" cowboy fashion this speed is sufficient in satisfying any curiosity one may have on what it feels like to ride this freak of automotive engineering.

The exact date of this test is undecided. The beach is admittedly in a poor condition. Racing can only be done at low tide and to take advantage of this tide level this week he will have to start not later than Thursday.

FAST ACTION IN TRIAL OF TWO MURDERERS

(By Universal Service)
NEW YORK, March 23.—The swift flight of justice begun on Long Island Sunday morning when Albert Snyder's murdered body was still warm, swept onward today, brushing aside the perfect alibis of his slayers—his wife and her paramour—and causing their indictment late this afternoon on charges of first degree murder less than 24 hours after their arrests on that charge.

It sweeps on tomorrow, starting early in the morning with the arraignment of the pair for the violation of one of God's laws, which is man's also—"Thou shalt not kill."

Tomorrow in county court, Long Island City, the Whilom lovers will again face one another—and if the last vestige of love is not gone from their glances, it is not because worry has not tried to efface it.

No Sympathy Wasted
Tonight Ruth Snyder paced her cell in the county jail. At times she stopped to utter "piercing cries," cries that the vagrant women who are her companions behind the bars do not relish in the dead of night.

"Aw, shut your gab. You're no better than us, you dirty murderers," snapped her jailmates as they tossed on their hard pallets. That was the "sympathy" given the woman who had betrayed her husband, Delilah-like, stripped him of his strength with liquor and subterfuge, and then aided in his murder.

Henry Gray's lot is little better. Being a man, or of the male sex at least, he is endowed with a little more stamina despite his slighter form and his sunken chest. He sat on his bunk in the Queens county jail tonight, alternately wringing his hands and clapping them to his head, and shouting the solace that would not come.

"Headed for Execution"
Today Gray awoke—if he had been asleep at all—to find his closest friend, Haddon Gray of Syracuse, detained by officials for questioning. Before night fell he had seen Haddon Gray freed, after that pal of his boyhood days had explained to the state that in aiding Henry Gray's alibi he had thought that he was only helping his friend cover up "a little affair with a woman, not a murder."

Gray, Haddon Gray, that is, is said to be the man who helped Henry Gray prepare the alibi that in aiding Henry Gray's alibi he had thought that he was only helping his friend cover up "a little affair with a woman, not a murder."

Gray's attorneys, and Mrs. Snyder's, are pretending confidence today, though how they can feel that the state admits it does not know. According to District Attorney Richard Newcombe an "open and shut" case has been obtained against the couple. They are headed for execution, he says.

Escaped Slayer Found In Chicago
JOLIET, Ill., March 23.—Gregorio Rizzo, under sentence of death for the murder of Deputy Warden Peter M. Klein, at the state prison was returned here today from Chicago. He escaped with two other Mexicans, also under sentence of death, two weeks ago. Robert Torres is still in a Chicago hospital. Bernardo Roa is still at large.

Rizzo, Torres and Roa and three others, all of them under sentence of death have an appeal pending before the state supreme court.

Rizzo was heavily guarded during the transfer, being shackled to two policemen. The automobiles were guarded in the front and the rear and two other policemen rode in the car with him.

Famous Chinese Explorer Lost
(By Universal Service)
(Special Cable Dispatch)
BERLIN, March 23.—Fears are expressed in Copenhagen over the fate of Sven Hedin, the famous explorer who is in Pekin preparing a new expedition to Tibet.

Some reports state he is gravely ill in Pekin but relatives are without news and are unable to communicate with him.

Distribution Of Spray Gun Product Will Be National

patents which the local organization perfected, Charles S. Renwick, head of the Decora company announced last night.

The most important of the new patents in making Richmond the headquarters of western manufacture and distribution is found in the original spray gun which is of entirely different type from any thus far invented. The new gun eliminates the fluid tip which is subject to frequent clogging, and in addition conserves approximately 50 per cent in compressed air volume.

In striving toward eliminating the common faults of spray guns—crossfire, hydraulic pressure, and center atomization—Renwick and Tittmore used a test gun with the new fluid tip for a year and a half at the local plant.

Lacquer enamel was used for test purposes and strict orders were given that the gun was not to be cleaned in any way. Throughout the test the fluid tip of the gun remained clean though the remainder of the instrument became caked with a varicolored coating.

WASTE LESSENED
The side ports commonly found on existing sprays have been discarded. "Orange peel" and "egg-shell" effects in lacquer finishing are eliminated, and waste is lessened through spray dust.

The air flow in the new type nozzle is to clean the tip rather than to clog it. An easily controlled and easily shaped spray is possible through double cross fire atomization. The only wearing part of the equipment, the fluid nozzle is greatly simplified in construction, and is easy to replace.

Cartridges which may be completely removed for material and air make packing and repairs so simplified that the average lay operator finds no difficulty in adjustment.

The new gun needs little or no attention, because of its self-cleaning feature, and will operate directly in efficient working conditions indefinitely.

DEAL CONTROL
Instant, positive adjustments of the air pressure are made by a novel graduating dial control of the liquid flow. This gives added facility in spraying material from a pressure container, and regulates the size of the spray from hand containers.

Rust-proof materials are used in the construction of the gun which is so simply built that it may be completely disassembled and then reassembled in a minute and a half by the average operator. The gun body is of one casting of aluminum alloy.

The completion of the merger assures Richmond another greater and more extensive industry. Rumors of the efficiency of the new spray gun became so persistent in the jobbing trade, that the Decora company was overwhelmed with orders before the device was fully completed and before the plant was equipped to manufacture it.

INTERNATIONAL SCOPE
"Through the new merger," Renwick declared last night, "we shall have an industry of international scope. Although our plant is adequate at the present time we shall make enlargements as they become necessary."

Tittmore becomes vice president and director of the new concern and Renwick also becomes a director.

Herbert Hoover Is Speaker At Auto Club Meet

WASHINGTON, March 23.—

Pledged to a program of safety and production for motorists, secretaries and Managers of several hundred automobile clubs located throughout the country today opened the third annual conference of groups affiliated with the American Automobile Association.

Secretary of Commerce Hoover addressed a luncheon meeting reviewing briefly the progress of the nation toward highway safety.

He spoke particularly about the A. A. A. motor clubs, operating through the initiative of more than a million individual motorists and with the cooperation of other civic organizations in the safety field, have done toward the adoption of the vital features of the uniform vehicle law evolved at the second conference on street and highway safety last year.

Thomas P. Henry, president of the A. A. A., called Secretary Hoover "The Father of the Safety Movement in America."

After the luncheon and a general meeting this afternoon, the conference broke up into state and sectional groups for dinner, in order that special problems affecting various sections of the country might be threshed out. The meetings will continue thru Friday.

In addition to safety problems, and a stock taking of what has been done by the clubs to solve them, other questions coming before the conference, include:

1. Steps that club executives are taking to make effective the recent decision of the U. S. Supreme Court condemning the alleged practice of officials of lower courts who, it is claimed, make personal profits out of fines they impose.

2. A review of the attitude of the country at large toward compulsory automobile insurance.

3. Plans whereby motor clubs in their individual territory will seek to pledge their representative in congress to the policy of reducing the three per cent war excess tax that still remains as a toll on the car owners of the country.

4. Ways of combatting the operations of hundreds of "eyep" clubs, levying the association holds, millions of dollars a year on car owners.

SENATOR TAYLOR OF COLORADO INDICTS SELFISH INTERESTS IN FLOOD RELIEF BILL FAILURE

By JOHN T. LAMBERT.

(Universal Service Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, March 23.—Playing for a stake that ultimately will amount to one hundred million dollars, the power trust was solely responsible for the defeat of the Boulder Canyon Dam Bill in the past session of congress.

That charge, without qualification, was made to President Coolidge today by Representative Edward T. Taylor of Colorado.

President Coolidge was told by Taylor that the greatest struggle he will have to make in the remaining years of his presidency will be against the "selfish attempts of the private power corporations to get a stranglehold upon the water power sites and other natural resources that belong to the people of this country."

Taylor appealed to the president to continue his active support of the Boulder Dam Bill.

"The politics of the situation possibly does not effect him in this matter," said Taylor, who is a Democrat, "but if the president manifests his continued interest in the Boulder Dam Bill, against the bitter opposition of the power trust, he will earn for himself the highest place in the affection of the people of the west."

In the hands of Ford's counsel tomorrow, it will be argued probably Friday.

William J. Cameron, editor of Ford's Dearborn Independent, was on the stand again today. Sapiro bases his libel action on a series of articles published by the Independent in 1924. The articles criticized Sapiro's activities with co-operative marketing associations of farmers.

Letter Excluded
Sapiro participated as a lawyer in his case for the first time today. He read articles from the Independent to the jury and also a letter. Mrs. Sapiro was in court. The letter was read by Sapiro in the jury's absence. It was excluded, together with three other letters, by Federal Judge Fred M. Raymond.

The letter, which started long and heated argument, was from A. C. Cherry, general counsel of the Northwest Bay association. The letter was addressed to Henry Ford. It concerned warnings concerning the authenticity of matters set forth in the Independent's Sapiro articles.

After ruling against the admissibility of this letter in evidence, Judge Raymond directed the press not to publish texts of excluded documents and to refrain from presenting detailed excluded evidence argued during the absence of the jury. It was explained that the court would not ask the jurors to keep from reading newspapers and that it was his desire not to make it possible for excluded evidence to reach them in an indirect manner. He added that in description of counsel's arguments and an indication of what was under consideration while the jury was away from court would be permissible.

141 Libels
Gallagher said he would present an amended declaration, in which the 141 libels alleged will be reduced by 30 or 35. In the amended document, however, the alleged libels that are to remain will be amplified. It was added. This reshaped declaration will be placed

DETROIT, March 23.—Henry Ford's testimony in the million dollar libel suit brought against him by Aaron Sapiro, Chicago attorney, will be delayed until next week, it was announced today. Mr. Ford, according to Sapiro's attorney, William Henry Gallagher, will follow Sapiro on the stand. It had been Gallagher's original intention to call Ford as his third witness and Sapiro as his fourth.

141 Libels
Gallagher said he would present an amended declaration, in which the 141 libels alleged will be reduced by 30 or 35. In the amended document, however, the alleged libels that are to remain will be amplified. It was added. This reshaped declaration will be placed

SPORTS CLUB HAS TOTAL OF 57 MEMBERS

Richmond will soon be on the map as a sporting city, if the recently organized Sportsmen's club here continues to grow as fast as it has been. Though but two months old the club now boasts a total of 57 members, 11 of which enrolled in the club last night at its regular meeting in the Knights of Pythias Castle.

The new members taken in last night were: Captain R. A. Clark, John D. Griffin, Albert G. Morrison, D. P. Allen, Mitchell Slosio, William Wickesser, Lester R. Marshall, Fred H. Eggert, John A. Myers, Harry A. Palmer, and W. V. Remell. At the previous meeting of the club, 13 new members were taken in. More applications are expected to be received at the next gathering on April 13. Plans were made last night for a Trap Shoot and Fly Casting meet to be held in the future, the date for which will be announced later. R. B. Dougall is the president of the Sportsmen's club which is affiliated with the California Associated Sportsmen, an organization boasting 75,000 members. The purpose of the group is to promote field and stream interests in the state as well as to check needless slaughter of wild game. Three game wardens were appointed by the club last night, these men being one dollar a year men assessing all of the rights of a state game warden.

On May 21 to 22 the Associated Sportsmen will hold an exhibit and show at the Marine in San Francisco for educational purposes. Local sportsmen plan to attend.

C. P. MURDOCK STARTS WORK ON NEW TRACT

be rushed with all possible dispatch to accommodate the huge growth that is accompanying Richmond's "coming of age."

The contract for the grading of the streets will be let in two or three weeks.

May 1 has been set as the tentative date for the opening of the subdivision. Although no streets will be fully completed by this time, officials of the company are anxious that the public be given full opportunity to avail themselves of the opportunity for investment that awaits.

The tract in itself is approximately 60 acres in dimension. The southeast corner of the subdivision is to be devoted to business. This will include frontage along Twenty-third street and Macdonald avenue. Back from this district toward the Santa Fe railway tracks it is planned to put in one of the most modern residential sections in the East Bay.

One unique feature which officials of the Murdock company developed after intensive study is the street plan of the subdivision. Streets will deviate from the usual block pattern and will wind through the district in graceful curves.

With the tentative approval of the city planning commission, the main diagonal artery of the tract will be called Broadway. Electroliners will be placed along the street at convenient intervals.

The American Trust company will erect a branch bank on the northeast corner of Macdonald avenue and Twenty-third street, thus assuring success to the new enterprise from the beginning.

Plans for the building, which will be 50x100 feet, include banking quarters downstairs and a large amount of room for office quarters above.

H. WILLS GIVES SOLUTION FOR SUICIDE WAVE

By OLIVE HATCH
(By Universal Service)
LOS ANGELES, Calif., March 23.—"If despondent college students would take their troubles into the open air and let them vanish in a sensible regime of exercise, there would be no college suicides."

Miss Helen Wills, the athletic young California tennis star, made this statement here today, and declared that the day of the college flapper has gone, the cigarette smoking co-ed having surrendered her popularity to the girls who have adopted the newer cult of the out-of-doors.

"I don't want to express an opinion that would be critical either of the younger or the older generation," she said at the Hotel Huntington, Pasadena, "but I cannot make up my mind to believe that the younger set is going to the dogs. I don't seem to see as many of the type we call 'flappers' around as formerly. It really seems as if they are giving place to girls who are more wholesomely interested in outdoor sports."

Published reports that plans were being made to evacuate Americans from Shanghai and other towns and leave their property to the looting and disorganized armies, were thus categorically denied.

It was explained that while it would be obviously impossible for American forces to penetrate to the remote inland and river towns, those Americans that can be reached can count upon the navy. It was declared to be the policy of this government that Americans on lawful business have a right to be in China and that their property is entitled to protection. Even should Americans leave Shanghai, American forces would be kept there to protect their property, it was stated.

The navy department announced the evacuation of Americans from Nanking to Shanghai, or Manila, as a necessary measure on account of the impossibility of getting sufficient ships and men up the river to afford adequate protection in a clash between the two Chinese armies.

145 Americans Flee
The destroyers Preston and Noa have taken 145 Americans aboard and are proceeding to Shanghai, Admiral C. S. Williams, commander-in-chief of the American forces, reported by radio today. Merchant ships under the protection of the two destroyers are bringing 30 more. Some Americans refused to leave the city, declaring that they would be safe and were left in Nanking.

Admiral Williams reported the injury of three Americans in the international settlement of Shanghai. One of them, a marine, was wounded while on patrol duty. The message omitted names.

Marine Wounded
LONDON, March 23.—Two highly important developments of American interest in the Chinese situation are reported in dispatches to the Daily Express tonight from its Shanghai correspondent.

These are:
The American marines will take over tomorrow the whole sector of the front line defense of the international settlement.
The American casualty official reports J. W. Stranch of the American destroyer Pittsburgh wounded by a sniper.
According to the dispatches the situation is tense.

White Buzzard? That's Potent Prescription

(By Universal Service)
LANCASTER, Ohio, March 23.—A white buzzard has been discovered near here. It is the leader of a flock of black buzzards and is said to be tame.

Punctured Pooch Prevents Poison

PORT CLINTON, Ohio, March 23.—Dogs are to be vaccinated in Ottawa county in order to prevent the spread of rabies, according to a decision of the county board of health, today.

American Devil Dogs will occupy on Thursday positions now held by the British forces.

This move, greatly welcomed by the British, upon whom the bulk of the burden of defending the international settlement has fallen, is a sudden reversal of the policy of the American authorities as it was announced originally that they were determined to land forces only for the maintenance of internal order and to defend the United States nationals and their property.

The American marines rushed out this morning and assisted the British Cold Stream guards at the Markham Road bridge when the Southerners threatened to cross the creek.

Stranch of the Pittsburgh was wounded in the shoulder when engaged with a working party at the customs jetty in the heart of the settlement.

Guerilla Warfare
LONDON, March 23.—Guerilla warfare is believed to have broken out again in the Poo Tung area across the Whang Poo river from the international settlement in Shanghai, according to a dispatch tonight from the Westminster Gazette correspondent in Shanghai. The British cruiser Hawkins has been continually sweeping the Poo Tung area with searchlights for the last six hours. A serious struggle has been proceeding with constant fusillade and bombing, the report states.

175 AMERICANS EVACUATE NANKING AREA
(By Universal Service)

PEKING, March 23.—One hundred and seventy-five Americans left Nanking tonight, forced to evacuate by the increasing intensity of the battle between the Northerners and Southerners. Bluejackets from the American cruiser Noa are guarding the American consulate. The situation is tense.

The Best Investment Is In Fong Wan Herbs

4837 Shattuck Ave. Oakland, Cal. July 30, 1926.

Ten years ago I had Malaria which left me with a twinging pain in my left kidney and running around like a mad man. Before I came to Oakland, I had treated with numerous physicians and had been in several hospitals in New York. As I got no relief whatever, I was advised to try a change of climate. I therefore came West, but here I suffered as badly as ever.

Finally a friend urged me to try the FONG WAN HERBS. One week of that treatment gave me wonderful, permanent relief. During the year that has elapsed since I have had absolutely no indications of my former complaints.

How wonderful it seems that the FONG WAN HERBS could thus help me after the doctors and hospitals had failed. I am a barber by trade. Had it not been for the FONG WAN HERB TREATMENTS how could I have earned a living while suffering with those terrible pains?

I am very thankful to the FONG WAN HERB SPECIALIST for what he has done for me and am giving him this testimonial as a token of my gratitude.

Chips That Fall From Bulgin Axe

Christianity is not a philosophy, it is life.

God has a sledgehammer heavy enough to break any heart.

Don't damn your conscience so the knocking of God can't be heard.

God pity the religious coward.

Trust the Bible fair and give it a chance to save you.

Get rich with God and He will show you the way home.

Be prepared to meet God when the crisis comes.

A capacity audience, made up principally of members of the Richmond Ku Klux Klan, packed the Big Tent last night to hear Dr. E. J. Bulgin deliver his sermon on the "Fall of Babylon." The scene in the palace of Belshazzar was described as the most dramatic in all history.

The evangelist told the story of the handwriting on the wall and around it made a setting of the ancient history which clearly brought the scenes before his hearers. In contrast to the heathen king and his followers, Dr. Bulgin brought the courageous Daniel before the audience and pictured both with remarkable interest.

GOD WARNS US

Dr. Bulgin declared: "When a nation gets into trouble, the best thing it can do is to call in a man who has God in him. When God writes, let every man stop and read what He has to say. God is warning all the time, but who stops to read the warning?"

"The matter with the world today is sin," declared the speaker. "There are a great many men to-made the address welcome to those present. The speaker praised the realtors for the great work they were doing, and assured them that the city government was always willing and ready to cooperate with them in any move for the advancement of Richmond and the county as a whole.

George S. Wall, B. Schapiro and E. J. Bull, and Mrs. W. H. Sanford, pioneer realtors of this city were introduced and told of the early history of Richmond. The facts they gave were most interesting and illuminating and showed that lots that sold in 1906 for $100 were now bringing prices ranging in the neighborhood of $10,000.

P. M. Sanford, president of the Chamber of Commerce and Commerce J. Harry Hays, presented the present picture of Richmond, and what prospects were for the future.

CAPPY RICKS TALKS

A short talk was also made by "Cappy" Ricks of Martinez. His graphic presentation of the work of the realtors, and the great service they could perform for the general public was one of the highlights of the occasion.

ALLEN SPEAKS

The dinner was marked by stirring talks by President Allen, Secretary Glenn D. Willmann of the state association, Fred D. Parr, president of the Parr Terminal, and others.

President Allen emphasized the ethics of the realtor, declaring that the realtor is both a business man and a professional man with the latter's high ideals of ethics and a desire to "play the game above board, fair and square and for the best interests of his client, his community and his profession."

"California has shown the way to 21 other commonwealths in real estate legislation," said Allen. "And the first plank in the year's program of the California association is that the real estate law must be enforced to the letter."

"Governor Young has appointed a realtor as real estate commissioner for the state of California," he continued. "He has also approved a real estate department budget which allows five more deputies for enforcement of the present real estate license law, enacted in 1919. Really bills now before the legislature are progressing satisfactorily, while measures inimical to real property are being purged against by the state association's representatives in Sacramento."

Allen called attention to the educational work of the state association which has now arranged for the fourth year of the real estate course offered by the University of California. He emphasized the need for closer co-operation between local, state and national associations; amplification of standard forms to include all major transfer of real estate business; a stronger working arrangement between the association and its board members; a still more diversified magazine fitting every need of the practical real estate office. Allen also paid high tribute to the realtors of Contra Costa county and Richmond as men and women of earnestness of purpose of high ideals or unwavering loyalty to their communities and to their profession.

"I hope to see the day soon," he said, "when every real estate salesman has been admitted to practice his calling, because of his knowledge and character. I hope that every broker will apply the principle of the golden rule to his representatives for they make over three-fourths of the deals in real estate and should be of the highest character."

"The California Real Estate association is now closing its twenty-second year. At all times it has been a statewide institution in its aims and ideals, based upon the solidarity of all of California. It has never espoused a selfish cause and it has always stood for those things that have made California the goal of the people from all over the world."

WILLAMANN TELLS OF GROWTH

Secretary Willmann emphasized the marvelous development of California, and presented these development facts about California: "California is growing two and one-half times as fast as the rest of the United States."

"It is the only state having two cities each with more than a billion dollars in bank deposits. It is the only state with two cities each having ten billion dollars in bank clearings annually."

"California is getting 5 to 7 cents out of every dollar expended in America in new building."

"California has the largest bank west of Chicago."

"California has four of the first ten counties in agricultural production in the United States."

"California has 13 out of the first 50 counties in the United States.

"California has an assessed valuation of $7,500,000,000, and has multiplied three times since 1910."

"California produces one-fourth of the fruits and vegetables of the United States."

"California has increased her automobiles 40 times in 16 years."

"California is second in number of automobiles."

"California is first in the number of cars per capita in the United States."

"California leads in hydro-electric development."

"California ranks among the first six states in the payment of income taxes."

"California is the open door to the world's greatest population."

PARR MAKES STIRRING TALK

Following Glenn D. Willmann, secretary of the California State Real Estate association, who spoke of the outstanding features of California from a manufacturing, banking, scenic and agricultural and home viewpoint, Fred D. Parr, president of the Parr Terminal, the man who is largely responsible for Richmond's great industrial and harbor development program, made a stirring talk on "Richmond and Contra Costa County Today and Tomorrow."

Tracing the recent history of Richmond's forward-looking development of its harbor and industrial waterfront, telling the story of how the Ford plant came to locate its largest western assembly plant in Richmond, tracing the movements to make Richmond one of the great ports of importance on the Pacific coast, praising the splendid co-operative spirit of Richmond's progressive citizens, Parr shot these facts at his audience—the story of Contra Costa county and Richmond boiled down to a cold, yet tremendously illuminating figures.

Contra Costa county factories produced $425,000,000 in manufactured products in 1926.

Richmond's share of this production was in excess of $245,000,000.

Contra Costa county's annual industrial payroll is $27,000,000.

Richmond's annual industrial payroll is $15,000,000.

Richmond's largest single industrial payroll is $6,000,000.

16 MILES OF WATERFRONT

Contra Costa county has 70 miles of deep water frontage.

Richmond has 16 miles of superb waterfront on deep water or at a point not less than 1,000 feet off shore.

Contra Costa county has nine port cities—Richmond being the largest—Antioch, Pittsburg, Crockett, Port Costa, Selsey, Martinez, Avon and Bay Point.

Contra Costa county leads all counties in the United States in per capita wealth.

There is an average of $5,418 for every person in Contra Costa county as against $3,300 for the next highest county in per capita wealth in America.

Contra Costa county produces approximately $10,000,000 worth of agricultural and garden truck products annually.

The assessed valuation of Contra Costa county is $105,000,000, which is one-fourth of the total value of its industrial output.

Richmond's population has increased 66 per cent since 1923.

49,902 carloads of freight, raw materials, food product and manufactured products passed in and out of Richmond in 1926.

There are 70 major industries in Contra Costa county.

Forty-eight of these industries are located in Richmond, with the world's largest oil refinery a Richmond industry.

There are approximately 18,000 industrial employees in Contra Costa county.

Richmond has 6,381 industrial employees, or more than one-third of the total number in the county.

Richmond's banks represent resources of $275,000,000.

The average savings account in Richmond per capita is $165.80.

Bank deposits are in excess of $8,000,000.

Richmond has 106 miles of paved streets.

Richmond is served by two great transcontinental railroads.

Richmond is the fourth port of importance in amount of tonnage

SAW HID IN UNIQUE WAY AT MARTINEZ

The saw with which the eleven prisoners in the felon tank in the Martinez county jail hoped to saw their way to freedom was recovered today, when Jailer Steve Neilson found the instrument hidden in a painted wall, where it had been concealed until the time was considered opportune for a break.

The prisoners cut away the paint in the wall to fit the size of the saw and then utilized a pie warmed with hot water to sweat the paint over the saw.

Authorities are bending their energy toward apprehending the person or persons who smuggled the saw into the jail. The plan to escape was discovered when Neilson found a her of the felons' saw cut and "soaped" back into place.

Headstand For Five Minutes? You're Sober!

(By Universal Service)

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio, March 23.—When Julius Venable was brought before court today on a charge of intoxication after he had stood on his head for five minutes, blocking traffic on a downtown street, the judge made the man repeat his performance in the court room. "Charge dismissed," the judge said. "Anyone who can do that for five minutes is sober."

handled on the Pacific coast.

The annual tonnage handled over Richmond's wharves and docks is in excess of 5,400,000 tons.

Richmond is 21 days nearer the vast raw materials of the Orient than Liverpool or London and 17 days nearer than New York.

Richmond industries are served more economically in reaching the 10,000,000 buyers in the ten western states—California, Oregon, Washington, Utah, Wyoming, Colorado, Nevada, Arizona, New Mexico—than any other Pacific coast city.

portation problems, your committee feels that this one thing is more important than the others and is absolutely necessary if we are to keep our promises to the Ford company. Therefore we will take this matter up with Mr. Ready as a definite issue. Richmond must have a car track to the inner harbor."

Director W. T. Helms brought up the matter of school children's fares, saying that at present many of the children in the senior and junior high schools in the Richmond district were paying two fares in getting to school. Helms urged the committee to take the matter up with the traction company which Scott promised to do. Scott is ably assisted by Harry Albert, Henry A. Johnston, Fred La Moine and J. H. Plate.

Harbor Committee Reports

E. B. Bull, chairman of the harbor committee, reported that his committee was preparing a mass of facts and figures on an augmented harbor development program to meet the needs of a greater industrial Richmond and would have a final report to make at the next meeting of the board.

Richmond today ranks as fourth tonnage among the Pacific coast ports, having handled more than 5,400,000 tons over its wharves and docks in 1926.

With the city flying in the inner harbor now in the construction of the levee embracing 127 acres of water front land, with government development contracts to be let on April 14, with the City of Richmond's check for $142,500 to the credit of the government in the Federal Reserve Bank in San

St. Andrews Society Enjoys Ladies' Night Celebration Here

St. Andrew's society of Richmond enjoyed a social evening at the Richmond clubhouse last evening with the ladies of the organization in complete charge of the occasion. Over 120 people were in attendance and the affair was pronounced a great success.

Mrs. W. Kirkwood was chairman of the evening. Mrs. James Stewart was in charge of entertainment and Mrs. James O. Glenzie of refreshments.

A most attractive program was presented. Miss Khigonoite gave an enjoyable selection of songs as did W. G. Thomson. An instrumental trio composed of Misses

Publicity Committee Named

Declaring that publicity and advertising constituted one of the most effective factors in chamber of commerce work and in building up the City of Richmond, President P. M. Sanford announced the following committee to have supervision of this important feature: A. L. Paulsen, chairman; George Rooker, Fred D. Parr, James A. McVittie, M. A. Hays. The committee will meet in a few days to go over a number of important advertising matters of vital interest to Richmond.

There was a good attendance at yesterday's meeting. Directors present were: P. M. Sanford, Joseph F. Brooks, W. T. Helms, J. L. Paulsen, George Rooker, M. A. Hays, Fred Newsome, Charles S. Ilenwick, E. B. Bull, Ira Vaughan, W. W. Scott, Fred La Moine, Harry Albert, E. M. Dwyer, J. A. McVittie.

A number of the directors attended the dinner and reception. Fred D. Parr, president of the California Real Estate association, which met at the new Hotel Carquinez last night.

Nellie Martin, Velma Grice and Elizabeth Taylor, presented pleasing numbers. Songs were given by Mrs. James Stewart, and a recitation by Peter MacCallum. Miss Bernice Mills was accompanist for the occasion.

At the conclusion of the evening a typically Scotch supper was served with old fashioned cake and scones as special features. Favors were given as souvenirs.

Following the supper dancing was enjoyed and the singing of Auld Lang Syne concluded the evening's entertainment. Plans were made for a whist party to be given April 31 in Richmond clubhouse.

GERMAN PRESS FLAYS U. S. FILMS

(By Universal Service)

BERLIN, March 23.—Jacob Wasserman, now in Hollywood, has been attacked by the German Nationalist press, because he is negotiating with Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer and Rex Ingram for the production of "Christian Wahn-schaffe."

Metro and Ingram especially, the press charges, is making a business of libeling Germany in films, and the press calls on Wasserman to remember his national duty and break off the negotiations.
